Jeffrey A. Unger concentrates in business, corporate, and real estate transactions. Since founding Ungerlaw, PC in 1997, Jeff has become best known as an expert on business organizations, including corporations, LLCs, and partnerships. He is the founder of eMinutes.com, an online entity formation and management tool used by accountants, attorneys, and entrepreneurs.

Jeff represents a variety of clients and has negotiated many high profile transactions.

Current transactions include:

- The financing, development and leasing of a 107,000 square foot destination retail project in Los Angeles, California.
- The sale of a residential portfolio in the "Little Italy" area of San Diego, which has attracted national awards for the project and its architect-developer.
- Conduit financing of a shopping center portfolio, including the defeasance of current loans.

Jeff has received an A/V Rating from Martindale Hubbell. The A/V rating is the highest possible rating and indicates "very high to preeminent" legal ability and "very high" ethical standards. Martindale Hubbell has ranked attorneys for over a century.

Personal

Jeff lives in the Brentwood area of Los Angeles with his son, Adam, and their beagle, Max.
